

Monika Křižánková

Associate

Monika Křižánková specialises in public law, specifically in construction law, real estate law, environmental law, and administrative law.

During her practice she has been involved in providing legal services mainly in the area of construction law in connection with development projects in the Czech Republic. Her work included comprehensive legal services, including environmental advice (EIA), representation of clients in obtaining and amending building permits and the necessary representation of clients before administrative authorities and in the administrative justice system.

Prior to joining our law firm, Monika worked as a legal student and then as a junior associate at law firms in Brno from 2014 and then at the Ostrava office of a Prague-based law firm, where she provided legal advice to Czech and international clients on construction and environmental law.

Projects

- representing a client in administrative proceedings challenging the validity of a building permit for a large industrial zone and successfully concluding the proceedings before the Supreme Administrative Court
- advising on environmental protection in obtaining permits for an exemption from the protective conditions of specially protected species of plants and animals
- representing a foreign client in administrative proceedings concerning the approval of a draft safety report pursuant to Act No. 224/2015 Sb., on Major Accidents Prevention
- advising a local association in an EIA screening procedure regarding a transport project that would potentially affect cultural monuments and protected habitats
- advising a foreign public entity on an appeal against a decision to permit the continuation of existing mining activities
- advising on administrative law with a focus on obtaining Czech citizenship

Membership in professional associations

Czech Bar Association
AIJA - International Association of Young Lawyers

Languages

Czech, Polish, English

Education

Masaryk University, Faculty of Law, Brno (2018), Mgr.
Masaryk University, Faculty of Arts, Brno (2016), Mgr.

E: monika.krizankova@havelpartners.cz